BIOGRAPHY

Originally hailing from Guayaquil, George Levi's hard work and dedication has made him one of the most influential members of the Ecuadorian underground music scene for over the past two decades.

His DIY attitude constantly expands multiple careers as a DJ, producer, club owner, radio show host, record label owner, and DJ school owner. The never ending hustle positions him at the forefront of one of the most exciting forward thinking music scenes in Latin America.

Known primarily for his skills as a DJ, his sets are a bold, always fresh, and entertaining blend of cutting edge house and techno. He is never afraid to experiment, and always willing to let you get down on the dancefloor. His music is at the meeting point of the old and new. Everyone can feel it when he comes on stage.

Highlights include being the owner of Monovox, Guayaquil's infamous electronic music venue until 2023. Resident dj at Lost Beach Club. He was chosen to play at the first Boiler Room event in Ecuadorian history. His productions have a home in Savia Park Records, one of the country's finest music labels. He was one of the main attractions during the opening for the top national soccer team Emelec's new stadium. He is also Adidas Original sponsored artist in Ecuador.
